

The Evening World

Published by the Press Publishing Company.

WEDNESDAY EVENING, DECEMBER 18.

SUBSCRIPTIONS TO THE EVENING WORLD

(Including Postage)

PER MONTH.....30c.

PER YEAR.....$3.30

VOL. 30.....NO. 10,347

Entered at the Post-Office at New York as second-class matter.

BRANCH OFFICES:

WORLD UPTOWN OFFICE—1247 Broadway,

between 121st and 122d sts., New York.

BROOKLYN—300 Fulton st., HARLEM—New

Department 150 East 125th st., Advertising

office at 327 East 112th st., PHILADELPHIA, PA.—Lexus Building, 112 South

City st., WASHINGTON—610 14th st.,

LONDON OFFICE—12 Cockspur st., TRAFALGAR

SQUARE.

ONE WEEK MORE.

This day a week will see seven gorgeous Christmas Trees in different halls, each surrounded by a throng of eager young things, who will wait with rapturous impatience for the presents that are going to be plucked from the fairy branches for them.

Treasures have poured into the office for the equipment of the trees, but there is no danger of an excess in presents. Those who have not yet contributed have a week in which to secure for themselves a feeling of satisfaction at making Christmas Day a joyous one for poor boys and girls, to whom red-letter days like this are rare ones in the calendar.

Do not feel that others have done all the good work when you can have a share in it too.

THE INFLUENZA SCARE.

No doubt the excessive talk about influenza has helped scores of people to the belief that they were victims of this trying epidemic. Imagination is a potent factor in promoting disease. There is undoubtedly some ground for believing that the "grip," after an aristocratic dalliance with the Russian Court and several of the crowned heads of Europe, has come to divert itself in a republican quarry.

The last time it made its appearance in this country was in 1848, when it ran parallel through the middle section of the country. It was called "Typhoid Grip," then. The symptoms are very much like those which go with fever and ague. Let us hope that we will be let off lightly.

PARNELL AT NOTTINGHAM.

PARNELL made a vigorous speech at Nottingham the other day. He spoke on Home Rule and the Land League. He declared that Ireland must promote her own industries and be free from coercion before she could ever amount to anything. He said that Ireland was tranquil now in its confidence in an ultimately triumphant Liberal party, which it looked to Mr. Gladstone to secure.

PARNELL will visit Gladstone at Harwarden after he gets through his work at Nottingham.

MORE WARNINGS.

If any encouragement were needed by Commissioner Gilroy in his work of removing dangerous electric wires it would be supplied by the ghastly cases which keep recurring.

Toledo has supplied the last horror, almost the counterpart of the Pecks tragedy. A poor fireman was broiled to death on the wires.

Do not flag, Commissioner. Spare not a single dangerous wire.

A MAN GOES MAD.

A man goes mad and attacks half a dozen men. He is a Danville manufacturer of tobacco and probably the largest individual consumer of chewing tobacco in the country. He used to chew two or three pounds a day.

Three only shows the fearful results of excess in anything. Habit is one of the most deadly tyrants.

SPOTLETS.

A delightful waiting lady of the West tried to walk on stilts and succeeded in breaking her leg. Poor, stilted young thing!

A young man married a woman and the next day enlisted in the regular service for five years. He will not be a divorcee. This is rather discouraging to military wives.

The Car need never complain of monopoly. Every new and better bus to work out household and send a lot of people to others for comparing to him. This is a worse "grip" than the influenza.

Senator Hiram's colored valet walked off with $200 of the Senator's. It was his valet-dictator.

A Chinese recently had his eyes blacked in Sunday school. Let the sweet, Christianizing influence go on.

Now they have snatched somebody in Texas. Few, quick they are to pick up metropolitan prey. But snatching seems tame for Texas.

A woman created a big block in Broadway yesterday. Flashed a big "copper" killed him. These dangerous animals should be kept off the street.

The wife of the Chinese Minister has such little taste that she can't walk. This ought to comfort Chicago girls.

Blue Chicagoers are getting common. Naturally they get "blue" as the time comes for them to be caught.

WORLDLINGS.

Tension Commissioner Ransom is a short, sturdy man, with long brown hair and a full face that is growing gray. In his attire he displays an effluence of shirt-bosoms in a diamond of spectacles.

The late Dr. Hancock, of Philadelphia, had the finest private collection of works on the occult sciences in the United States.

A Washington correspondent describes Senator Ingalls, of Kansas, as a man with "a quiescent countenance of thought, gray hair, which is neatly parted in the middle, a small, sharp, pointed beard, and a pair of glasses, and an air of quietness and confidence."

RUPPERT AGAIN.

He Resumes His Lead in "The Evening World" Contest.

Capt. Wilson Following Along in Second Position.

Major Kipp and Lieut.-Col. Moran in Their Old Places.

The friends of Col. Rupert, who have been keeping quiet for the past few days, came to the front again yesterday, and once more the gallant Colonel leads THE EVENING WORLD National Guard Election, with a total of 97,245.

Don't forget that Wilson precedes on in second place with 91,788 votes to his credit, while Major Kipp and Lieut. Col. Moran still hold third and fourth positions, their vote being, respectively 50,230 and 47,907.

The second round of the electoral contest will be held on Saturday, the 22nd inst. In the first place, it is to be made upon an entirely new design, richly ornamented, and of the best material to be obtained.

The shape of the slide will also depend upon the result of the election. If it is to be a slide, it will be made of the best material to be obtained, and will be of the best design to be obtained.

The word will be manufactured by H. M. Whitlock, of 30 Fourth Avenue, the well-known maker of military equipment, and this announcement of itself guarantees the best of material and workmanship.

If you have not already done so, cut out and send the following blank properly filled, to THE EVENING WORLD.

THE EVENING WORLD POPULAR VOTE ON THE OFFICERS OF THE NATIONAL GUARD OF NEW YORK AND NEW JERSEY.

MY CHOICE IS—

RANK AND POST—

SIGNATURE OF VOTER—

RESIDENCE—

Conditions.

THE EVENING WORLD will present to the most popular officer of the National Guard of the State of New York and New Jersey a beautiful report of unique and appropriate design.

Each reader may vote once only.

Put in the blank as prescribed and mail it to the Editor.

Go to the bank as prescribed and mail it to the Editor.

Go to the bank as prescribed and mail it to the Editor.

Go to the bank as prescribed and mail it to the Editor.

Go to the bank as prescribed and mail it to the Editor.

Go to the bank as prescribed and mail it to the Editor.

Go to the bank as prescribed and mail it to the Editor.

Go to the bank as prescribed and mail it to the Editor.

Go to the bank as prescribed and mail it to the Editor.

Go to the bank as prescribed and mail it to the Editor.

Go to the bank as prescribed and mail it to the Editor.

Go to the bank as prescribed and mail it to the Editor.

Go to the bank as prescribed and mail it to the Editor.

Go to the bank as prescribed and mail it to the Editor.

Go to the bank as prescribed and mail it to the Editor.

Go to the bank as prescribed and mail it to the Editor.

Go to the bank as prescribed and mail it to the Editor.

Go to the bank as prescribed and mail it to the Editor.

Go to the bank as prescribed and mail it to the Editor.

Go to the bank as prescribed and mail it to the Editor.

Go to the bank as prescribed and mail it to the Editor.

FOR POVERTY'S CHILDREN.

Swelling "The Evening World's" Christmas-Tree Fund.

Liberal Donations for the Poor Children's Christmas Parties.

Benefit Performances Arranged by Large-Hearted Managers.

Today Manager John B. Doris devotes the entire receipts of his Fifth Avenue and Harlem theatres to THE EVENING WORLD's Christmas Tree Fund. Specially attractive programmes have been arranged, and every effort will be made by the energetic manager to render the benefits successful.

As an extra inducement, Mr. Doris offers a free family pass to either musical good night Jan. 1, 1890, to the purchaser of the largest number of tickets to-day.

Friday there will be two benefits at two theatres for this object. One will be at the Union Square under the patronage of a number of well-known society women, and the other at Jerome's Third Avenue Theatre, under the patronage of the same.

Preparations for the Christmas parties are progressing in a very gratifying manner. The ladies who are to provide are working actively and efficiently, and the general supervision of Mr. Doris, of THE EVENING WORLD, is being given to the fund.

The Christmas tree in Apple Hall will be the largest ever seen in this city. It will be the work of the ladies who are to provide, and will be the work of the ladies who are to provide.

Donations of goods and toys are liberally coming in from all quarters. Notify THE EVENING WORLD, when you have ready a donation of toys, books, clothing, etc., and an evening of THE EVENING WORLD will call for it at your address. Those designated for the Harlem tree should be sent to Mrs. John Allen, 100 West 125th street and Eighth Avenue.

Mr. Norton J. Moran has arranged that the Palace Theatre (Germantown Avenue, Brooklyn) will be at the disposal of THE EVENING WORLD for the purpose of giving a benefit performance for the Christmas Tree Fund on Friday, December 21st.

Donations to THE EVENING WORLD Christmas Tree Fund are reported as follows:

Previous acknowledgments.....$1,572.14

Five E. and Three A. 1.00

Harlem Children 1.00

Harlem Children 1.00

Harlem Children 1.00

Harlem Children 1.00

Harlem Children 1.00

Harlem Children 1.00

Harlem Children 1.00

Harlem Children 1.00

Harlem Children 1.00

Harlem Children 1.00

Harlem Children 1.00

Harlem Children 1.00

Harlem Children 1.00

Harlem Children 1.00

Harlem Children 1.00

Harlem Children 1.00

Harlem Children 1.00

Harlem Children 1.00

Harlem Children 1.00

Harlem Children 1.00

Harlem Children 1.00

Harlem Children 1.00

Harlem Children 1.00

Harlem Children 1.00

Harlem Children 1.00

STORY OF THROGG'S NECK.

GRAPHICALLY TOLD BY GARDNER MONTRE, OF WEST CHESTER.

In the Course of the Story He Relates How Patina Would Stop It Over His Eyes, and How He Couldn't Sleep at Night Because His Nose Was Stopped Up—The Sequel.

Throgg's Neck and West Chester village are one and the same. In Westchester County, just outside of the city, back of Fort Schuyler, among the beautiful estates is that of Mrs. George T. Ledy, whose late husband was one of the Directors of the Bank of Commerce of this city. Mrs. Ledy's head garden is John R. McIntire, a big, good-natured man, whose face is as honest as the sun. Mr. McIntire has lived in West Chester for the past six years, and every man, woman and child knows him.

Notes by Nell Nelson.

Contributor.—Your box has helped very materially a poor child.

Patina R. L.—It was very sweet of you to sacrifice the object of a Christmas tree for a Christmas doll. Blessings on your fair hand.

The child who was in your pretty pink lace and sixteen twenty-five-cent pieces is very pretty. It will pay for four pairs of leather shoes, and more than enough for a Christmas tree.

Patina R. L.—The coin you sent has made me feel that you are more than a friend. It is a very pretty coin, and will make very appropriate and pleasing gifts.

THE BENEFIT AT WORTH'S.

Generous Managers' Efforts Curb-tailed Only by Inclement Weather.

With their characteristic liberality, the managers of Worth's Fifth Avenue store, on Fourth street, early offered the proceeds of a matinee performance at their home for the benefit of THE EVENING WORLD'S Christmas Tree Fund.

Yesterday was the day selected for the benefit, and the following communication from Worth's Fifth Avenue store was sent to the managers of THE EVENING WORLD:

100, 108 EAST FOURTH STREET, Dec. 17.

Dear Sirs:—In closed please find check for $57.00, the amount taken in at our box-office this afternoon. Kindly use it for the benefit of the poor children of this city, and we hope that it will give them a happy Christmas.

We are sorry that the snow is so large, but it is a very pretty snow, and will make very appropriate and pleasing gifts.

Yours respectfully, M. W. Worth, Proprietor and Managers.

"TWELFTH NIGHT."

Worthy to rank with any of the other effective theatrical representations that have distinguished the season is the production of "Twelfth Night," which was given for the second time at the Fifth Avenue Theatre last night. This Shakespearean comedy is not very frequently played.

Perhaps this is due to the fact that Viola is not a very conspicuously "star" point. It is quickly subordinated to the humor in the comedy, which is according to modern notions, is not highly intelligible.

In fact, "Twelfth Night" is one of the many Shakespearean plays that afford one a keener joy to read than to see performed.

The production at the Fifth Avenue is chiefly interesting on account of the charming personality of Miss Marie Wainwright, who ought to be with us a great deal more often than she is. If Miss Wainwright is New York's favorite, Miss Wainwright could easily become her understudy.

Miss Wainwright's Viola is an even, intelligent woman of work, dominated by a kindly womanhood that is irresistible. Her sense of humor is keen. In the dual scene she was delightfully amusing. Her delivery was clear and strong, and her voice was clear and strong.

Miss Wainwright's Viola is an even, intelligent woman of work, dominated by a kindly womanhood that is irresistible. Her sense of humor is keen. In the dual scene she was delightfully amusing. Her delivery was clear and strong, and her voice was clear and strong.

Miss Wainwright's Viola is an even, intelligent woman of work, dominated by a kindly womanhood that is irresistible. Her sense of humor is keen. In the dual scene she was delightfully amusing. Her delivery was clear and strong, and her voice was clear and strong.

Miss Wainwright's Viola is an even, intelligent woman of work, dominated by a kindly womanhood that is irresistible. Her sense of humor is keen. In the dual scene she was delightfully amusing. Her delivery was clear and strong, and her voice was clear and strong.

Miss Wainwright's Viola is an even, intelligent woman of work, dominated by a kindly womanhood that is irresistible. Her sense of humor is keen. In the dual scene she was delightfully amusing. Her delivery was clear and strong, and her voice was clear and strong.

STORY OF THROGG'S NECK.

GRAPHICALLY TOLD BY GARDNER MONTRE, OF WEST CHESTER.

In the Course of the Story He Relates How Patina Would Stop It Over His Eyes, and How He Couldn't Sleep at Night Because His Nose Was Stopped Up—The Sequel.

Throgg's Neck and West Chester village are one and the same. In Westchester County, just outside of the city, back of Fort Schuyler, among the beautiful estates is that of Mrs. George T. Ledy, whose late husband was one of the Directors of the Bank of Commerce of this city. Mrs. Ledy's head garden is John R. McIntire, a big, good-natured man, whose face is as honest as the sun. Mr. McIntire has lived in West Chester for the past six years, and every man, woman and child knows him.

Notes by Nell Nelson.

Contributor.—Your box has helped very materially a poor child.

Patina R. L.—It was very sweet of you to sacrifice the object of a Christmas tree for a Christmas doll. Blessings on your fair hand.

The child who was in your pretty pink lace and sixteen twenty-five-cent pieces is very pretty. It will pay for four pairs of leather shoes, and more than enough for a Christmas tree.

Patina R. L.—The coin you sent has made me feel that you are more than a friend. It is a very pretty coin, and will make very appropriate and pleasing gifts.

THE BENEFIT AT WORTH'S.

Generous Managers' Efforts Curb-tailed Only by Inclement Weather.

With their characteristic liberality, the managers of Worth's Fifth Avenue store, on Fourth street, early offered the proceeds of a matinee performance at their home for the benefit of THE EVENING WORLD'S Christmas Tree Fund.

Yesterday was the day selected for the benefit, and the following communication from Worth's Fifth Avenue store was sent to the managers of THE EVENING WORLD:

100, 108 EAST FOURTH STREET, Dec. 17.

Dear Sirs:—In closed please find check for $57.00, the amount taken in at our box-office this afternoon. Kindly use it for the benefit of the poor children of this city, and we hope that it will give them a happy Christmas.

We are sorry that the snow is so large, but it is a very pretty snow, and will make very appropriate and pleasing gifts.

Yours respectfully, M. W. Worth, Proprietor and Managers.

"TWELFTH NIGHT."

Worthy to rank with any of the other effective theatrical representations that have distinguished the season is the production of "Twelfth Night," which was given for the second time at the Fifth Avenue Theatre last night. This Shakespearean comedy is not very frequently played.

Perhaps this is due to the fact that Viola is not a very conspicuously "star" point. It is quickly subordinated to the humor in the comedy, which is according to modern notions, is not highly intelligible.

In fact, "Twelfth Night" is one of the many Shakespearean plays that afford one a keener joy to read than to see performed.

The production at the Fifth Avenue is chiefly interesting on account of the charming personality of Miss Marie Wainwright, who ought to be with us a great deal more often than she is. If Miss Wainwright is New York's favorite, Miss Wainwright could easily become her understudy.

Miss Wainwright's Viola is an even, intelligent woman of work, dominated by a kindly womanhood that is irresistible. Her sense of humor is keen. In the dual scene she was delightfully amusing. Her delivery was clear and strong, and her voice was clear and strong.

Miss Wainwright's Viola is an even, intelligent woman of work, dominated by a kindly womanhood that is irresistible. Her sense of humor is keen. In the dual scene she was delightfully amusing. Her delivery was clear and strong, and her voice was clear and strong.

Miss Wainwright's Viola is an even, intelligent woman of work, dominated by a kindly womanhood that is irresistible. Her sense of humor is keen. In the dual scene she was delightfully amusing. Her delivery was clear and strong, and her voice was clear and strong.

Miss Wainwright's Viola is an even, intelligent woman of work, dominated by a kindly womanhood that is irresistible. Her sense of humor is keen. In the dual scene she was delightfully amusing. Her delivery was clear and strong, and her voice was clear and strong.

Miss Wainwright's Viola is an even, intelligent woman of work, dominated by a kindly womanhood that is irresistible. Her sense of humor is keen. In the dual scene she was delightfully amusing. Her delivery was clear and strong, and her voice was clear and strong.

E. RIDLEY & SONS,

GRAND ST., N. Y. GRAND ST., N. Y.

OPEN EVENINGS. OPEN EVENINGS.

CHRISTMAS GIFTS.

Toys, Dolls, Games, Books.

ASSORTMENTS STILL LARGE—PRICES THE LOWEST.

SOLID GOLD AND SILVER WATCHES. GENUINE DIAMOND JEWELRY. GOLD BANGLES, CHAINS AND FINGER RINGS.

STERLING SILVER AND SILVER-PLATED WARE, POCKET AND TABLE CUTLERY, CHINA, TEA AND DINNERS SETS, POTTERY, BISQUE WARE, &c.

Clocks, Bronzes, Figures, Parlor and Art Furniture, Fancy Chairs, Rockers, Centre-Tables, Pedestals, Cabinets, Odd Pieces, &c., Cans, Umbrellas, Albums, Work-Boxes, Glove and Handkerchief Sets, Jewel-Cases, Toilet and Perfumery Articles, &c.

UNBROKEN ASSORTMENT SKIN-COVERED ANIMALS.

DOCTORS

McCoy and Wildman

ESTABLISHED 1880.

OFFICES, 5 EAST 42D ST., NEW YORK, NEAR GRAND CENTRAL DEPOT.

AND 187 MONTAGUE ST., OPPOSITE ACADEMY OF MUSIC, BROOKLYN.

WHERE ALL CURABLE CASES ARE TREATED WITH SUCCESS.

If you live at a distance write for a symptom blank. P. M. hours—9 to 11 A. M. and 2 to 4 P. M. 7 to 9 P. M. daily—Sundays included.

THEY WON'T YIELD

National Line Pier Strikers Still Hold Firm.

The white longshoremen who struck at the National Line pier, off West 10th street, were as determined as ever this morning that they would not go back and work with negroes.

The men, while feeling very bitter against the colored workers, have restrained themselves from offering any violence to the latter, and thus far not a single fracas has taken place.

The longshoremen had a force of nine policemen guarding the entrance to the pier, but there seemed to be little need of them.

The strikers stood on the opposite corner, stolidly puffing smoke from their characteristic short clay pipes, and discussing the situation of affairs.

"We are determined to a man," said one intellgent fellow, "not to go back on that dock as long as the negroes work there."